MEAT PRODUCTION. An Encouraging Outlook for Those

are Engaged in the Ensiness When work is scarce, wages low, and incomes diminished, people restrict themselves more closely to a regetable diet than they otherwise would, and resort to all sorts of expedients by which to avoid the purchase or the dearer priced meats. And this wholesome article of food, instead of being regarded as a staple entering to i greater or less degree into the daily consumption, is used in many house holds in restricted quantities and only as a sort of seasoning or element in combinations of other kinds of food Thus hard times diminish the demand tor meat, and under their influence in this country the demand has fallen off amazingly. The retail butchers everywhere complain as bitterly of hard times as any other class of dealers, and probably in no direction has the effect of the prevailing commercial depres-sion been more marked. And yet, in the face of this diminished demand. and note this tanding the pressure of hard times and the protace of a universal economy upon the part of the people, the prices of ment have been well sustained and its production is till highly remunciative to the immer This can mean but one thing—that the milit production of the country at the present ime is not greatly in ex-cess of the most restricted demand, and that any surplus which may exist is of such trilling proportions as to produce little or no effect upon prices and it all the meat is now wanted at il muno itive plices what will be the effect upon this industry when, with relaring prosperity, there is a wide-spic of increase in the consumptive de-mand. There will not be much more ment consumed, because it is not in ex-struct and can not be quickly pro-luced but the unsatisfied demand will idvance pines to a higher range and under the production of meit even more remunerative than it has been heretotore. And it the British demand, with returning prosperity, should impose a tix upon our energies in this direction, it will be difficult to estimate the armness and stability of the man et Good tiraes will come again and ofo e reople reclize their coming, and here is Everything in the future outook to encourage if a live-stock grow-

CLIMATE.

Ho climates give rise to undue activity of the liver and skin, render the ligistive system sluggish, the nervous mittale Cold climates promote active digistion, musculu development, and nelder the nervous system sluggish, but expose the lungs and kidneys to grave d scases The temperate chimates are the healthnest, especially where the temperature is least variable Islands have a climate of their own, ocing warmer in winter and cooler in summer, and having a moister atmos phere The climate of the sea coast approximates that of islands, while that of the mid-land tends to extremes Mountain climates are characterized by punity of air. The climbing of the h il on foot enforces deep inspiration, nd promotes expansion of the chest Limited districts have each, to a con-iderable extent, their local climates In many cases, a change of a few miles produces an atmo-phere of different rygien e value More and more, at the present day does the medical profession take advantage of these chimatic divers ties in curing disease or improving the general health The climate of the sea-shore, with its luly regular variations of temperature, its abundance of oxygen and its saline particles suspended in the air, tends to nerease the activity of the circulation and respiration, and is particularly suited to the scrofulous, to many chronic diseases and to convalescence nom acuto diseases or from surgical operations Mountain climates are adapted to consumptives and to the consumptively inclined toxictims of hay fever, and to such as are suffering from overwork, but are otherwise healthy. It is harmful to those afflicted with chronic b onchitis, heart troubles, Bught's disease, e ironic rheumatism and to the while all such, and those who suller from most nervous diseases, are helped by the quieting and bracing ck-mate of wooded districts. The lessons to be learned from the late special election in the 34th district will probably not be lost sight of by either party. If Republicans or Democrats are ever caught napping again it will be a long time in the future.

Don't let business cares keep you from easting your vote at the judicial election, which occurs June 1. The choice of three judges to serve for a term of six years is an importaut matter, and ought to call out a Vegrenday the fameral of Mrs. John M. Palmer, wife of Ex-Gov. Palmer, took place at Springfield. The deceased had been a sufferer from consumption for a long time, and her death has been expected for some months. Sho was a most estimable woman, possessed of all the qualities which make the faithful wife and good mother, and her bereaved family will have the warm sympathy of all who know her in life, for "None knew her but to love her.

There is no shadow of doubt as to the legality of the election of Capt. Weaver in the 31th district, but the Democrats in the house are believed to have agreed upon a plan to keep him from taking his soat. In this revolutionary proceeding they have the support of the Democratic press. generally, and especially of all those who so much delight to prate about "offensive partisans," and about "turning the rescale cut." If may Democrat of this class has thus far raised his voice against this high handed attempt to override the will of the people as expressed at the ballot-box we have yet to hear of it. The fact is brought to mind, in connection with the doubtful rumor that Austria will refuse to receive Keiley, that Anstria onco did refuse to receive a Minister of the United States. This was Anson P. Burlingame, who was subsequently sout to Chins, where he made a famous record. While a Congressman before the war, Burlingame effered a resolution of sympathy with Hungary. When Lincoln nominated him to Vienna, the resolution was brought up against hon, the Austrian government protested, and the result was that he was sent to China instead of Vienna

Probably Gov. Shuman knows whereof he speaks, but we never heard the charge denied at the time when that order rumbered in its membership so large a portion of the Democratic party in Illinois. We have a distinct recollection of] the character of Mr. Judd's speeches in 1864, the made one in Decator that your) and if there was any Dem ocrat in Illinois who made more in tensely bitter ones, or who was more devoted to the auti war peace at mayprice platform of the Chicago convention which in miniated Cenge B. THE President has canceled the appointment of James Blackburn as Internal Revenue Collector for Kentacky, owing to excessively disloyal letters written by him at the beginning of the rebel war. It is understood that the following letter was the straw which broke the camel's

Mr. Grave's Successor, WASHINGTON, D. C., May 12.-It is denied at the Treasury that any consideration has yet been given to the question of Mr. E. O. Graves' successor as Assistant Treasurer. The gossips are far ahead of this, however, and have named Mr. A. G. Collins, a lawyer of Batavia, N. Y., as he coming man. The impression prevalls in the Department that Treasurer Jordan will name his assistant, and will make the selection with the view to se ming a man thoroughly conversant with he dathes of the offices, and capable of performing a fair share of the work. The belief that such a man can not be found outside of the Department serves to enourage the officers of the Bureau to hope that the positionimay be filled by promo

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 11.-A wellknown Republican Congressman said today: "There is no paule among the department clerks. There never has been a sweeping or sudden change-from the very nature of the business it could not be a wholesale and peremptory one. Of course there will be changes. cur every year, and to a large extent every four years. They are unavoidable. But some are of the ontaion that such cases during the next four years will be reduced to the minimum. I have no doubt that a number, even of the upper grade of employes, will serve out their official terms, and finally retire undis-turbed by the decapitating axe.

The greater bulk of the subordinate employes will be undisturbed unless, by improper conduct, they invite summary dismissal. Mr. Cleveland is a cold man evidently. He means to run his adminitration upon business principles, and means to ran it himself, not to leave it to Cabinet officers and bureau chiefs. Doing this he will naturally keep an eye on and speedily check that which does not chame with his ideas of doing business.

The New Law Regarding Foreign Con-NEW YORK, May 11 .- The first case that has arisen in the courts under the new act passed last session by Congress forbidding the importation of foreigner under contracts made abroad to do work in this country, met with little success in the Supreme Court to-day. Judge Lawrence rean order to the company to show cause why it should not be prevented from violating the new net. Before notice of the action of the Court was served on the Company the musicians and landed, and therefore they could not be detained on board. The order to the Company was made returnable to-day. Counsel for the steamship company appeared in Court this morning ready to argue the case, but after a brief review of the matter, the Judge decided to dismiss the writ, inas-much as the law was a new one, and the men were already landed. The musicians were brought under a contract made for Wan Brann, of Philadelphia. The Steamer Helvetia Sunk Hannax, N. S., May 11 .- The steamer Helvetia from Antwerp to Montreal, with a general cargo sank off Scatary Island ou Saturday. She had been in the ice around Cape Ray over a week and was leaking badly. She balled the Allan Line steamer Acadian, which took the Helvetia in tow, but had not gone far before it became necessary to transfer the Helvetia crew to the Acadian, it being apparent that the disabled vessel was sinking. The Helvetia went down before the last of her crew had been transferred to the Acadian. She carried no passengers. Her crew was composed of thirty-five men. She was, with her cargo, worth $400,000.

> Arrest of the Man Charged With the Indiana Train Robbery.

The Plausible Story He Tells in His Own Defense Contradicted By His Wife and Father

BLOOMINGTON, IND., May 12 .- Wm

Wright was arrested in Terre Haute

Monday and brought here yesterday charged with the train robbery commit ted near here two weeks ago. He says "It looks kind of hard to be here under these circumstances, but I feel confiden that Weber will set me free. I want to see him as quick as possible. I left Tues duy, the day before the crime was com-mitted, for Terre Haute, to go to my uncle's for work. He had none, and I then bought some notions and went out on a tramp to sell them for a living. The night the crime was committed, I was four miles west of Terre Haute, as I can prove by a man whom I I did not hear of their hunting me until Thursday last. On Sunday I went and gave myself up. I told the police I wanted the matter straightened up at once. I had word from my wife several times and wrote her a letter the day the crime was committed. I am sure they will set me at liberty."

The story is well connected, but does not agree with that of his wife or father The general impression is that he bought a ticket to prove that he was out of the neighborhood, and that the letter from Terre Haute was mailed by an accom-plice, for it is not in his handwriting. His manner is careless and he wants to alk to everybody.

His doctors refused to let Weber comip to-day, but it is thought he will be

THE RILL REBELLION A More Serious Matter Than Was Anticipated. Orrawa, ONE, May 12 .- Lord Melgund, in view of the very unsatisfactory outlook in the Northwest, has been hurriedly recalled by the Government to Ottawa to act as advisor. This strengthens the belief that the Government regards the situation with greater alarm than it is began, resulting in the death of five and been made in sending infantry in place of cavalry. Sir Juo. MacDonald stated in Parliament last night that the official report of the Duck Lake fight has been received, but was not sat-isfactorily made out, and has been returned to be enlarged upon. It is generally believed that the report reflects on the action of some one whom the Gov criment does not care to compromise. There is no truth in the statement that correspondence has passed between the Canadian and British Governments regarding the intervention of the latter in ass sing to put down the rebellion. Fleeing From the Scene of War. Goodwin, residing in the Young property, near the corner of West Eldorado and Mercer streets, were considerably stirred up internally and badly frightenes, after they had eaten heartily of a big mess of greens one of the girls had gathered in the Durfee hemp field not far from the house The greens had been dug up and boiled with becon, and were esten at about I o clock All three members of the family, Mrs. William McGoodwin aged 60, her daughter, aged 16, and her granddaughter, aged 8 years, were each taken violently and alarmingly ill, and all were madnatrious in vomiting and retching. The flight of the sick ones was at a boiling point, and as quickly as possible Dr. W. B. Hosterier was summoned to the house. He found the family deathly sick and weak from exertion He was unable to learn what the women had eaten, though they tried to tell him that they had had greens for dinner, in which they knew there were wild beets and dock, but they do in t think there was any poisonous weed in the lot. The doctor administered a mild emetic and left medicine, hoping for the best. He was not specially alarmed, and believed the danger of any fatal results past. Along about seven o clock he was again sum moned to the house, where be found two of the women still badly frightened.
